

Factsheet

As a member of Dartmouth Health, New London Hospital is a Critical Access Hospital serving 15 communities in the Kearsarge/Lake Sunapee region in central New Hampshire, providing primary care and specialized clinical services in a patient and family centered environment. In addition to services at the main campus in New London, primary and some secondary care is offered at the organization's Newport Health Center, a rural health center in Newport, NH. For more information, visit newlondonhospital.org.

Panelist: Tom Manion, President and CEO. Tom joined New London Hospital (NLH) in March of 2020 from the University of Vermont Health Network – Porter Medical Center in Middlebury, Vermont, where since 2017 he served as vice president of Porter Medical Group. From 2012 to 2017, he also served in a variety of increasingly senior roles at Bassett Medical Center in Cooperstown, New York including network director, Delivery System Reform Incentive Payment Operations and Strategic Planning and director of Musculoskeletal Divisions. While at Bassett he also oversaw the establishment of the hospital's first medication assisted treatment program for opioid addiction and served as manager of Bassett's Cancer Treatment Center. Tom began his career at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York City, serving in administrative roles in physician billing, imaging and clinical research from 2006-2012.

NLH Employees

- 449 Employees/full-time equivalents
- 240 Providers on the medical staff

Current Staff Openings

- 45 Full and 15 part-time

Current and Future Initiatives

Address Staffing Challenges , Operating Room Expansion